Defence of Alberto Sola Leyva’s doctoral thesis

23/06/2022

After three years of work, on 23 June 2022, Alberto Sola defended his doctoral thesis entitled “Microbial landscape in female reproductive health: unravelling its composition and host-microbe interactions”. The thesis, which received an ‘International’ distinction, was awarded the grade ‘Outstanding Cum Laude’ by the examination board comprising Mª Paz Carrasco Jiménez, Concepción Jiménez López, Francisco José Esteban, Jose Antonio Horcajadas and Lusine Aghajanova.

Congratulations, Dr Sola-Leyva!

The celebration took place at a beautiful carmen in the Albaicín district, overlooking the Alhambra.
